

Why College Is Important To Me

By Lawrence Merigian

College holds great importance to me, and it will be the foundation of my future. I have been taught at home that growing up to become a good man is just as important as being a hard worker. I have good values and a foundation that will carry me into being a successful college student. I strive to excel in my studies and personal life. I am already preparing for college. I was recently accepted into the Community College High School Enrichment program as a freshman. I also took part in the freshman PSAT and my score was 1240.

In today's world, a college education is virtually mandatory for seeking a successful career. College is a crucial stepping stone in preparing for my career. To be prosperous in my career, I must be knowledgeable, skilled, and resourceful. College will nurture these traits and bring them to fruition. It will provide me with the tools necessary to be structured and disciplined. It will assist me in exploring my strengths and overcoming my weaknesses. It will promote and define my personal and professional growth.

College will give me the opportunity to take the courses necessary to determine and confirm successful career options. I would like to learn more about becoming an engineer or a pharmacist. I am excited to take advanced courses in science and math. College will help me hone in and make a career choice that will make me employable and successful.

College is not only the start of my career but also an introduction to adulthood. College will be an asset to me in the workforce and in everyday life. College will provide me with a learning and social environment that will allow me to grow as a person and build confidence to become a success.

College creates a unique and extraordinary environment where people from vastly diverse backgrounds can connect, interact, and learn with one another. It is one of the best environments to make lifelong friends who come from diverse backgrounds. It is important that I explore new learnings and connections in college. This will allow me the opportunity to grow and mature while building friendships that can withstand the test of time. This will require me to step out of my comfort zone. I am excited to participate in extracurricular activities, such as clubs, sports, study groups, and community service.

College is monumental in shaping me into a well-rounded individual. College will open my eyes and broaden my understanding of life. I will be able to learn more about myself. It will teach me educational fundamentals while still allowing for personal growth. It will help me grow into a better person.

In conclusion, college is important to me because it is the next phase in the journey of life. It will open doors that will lead to success. College will have a profound impact on my future as I mature as a person. It is the next step for me to become a successful and contributing adult.
